☒ 2. Proficiency in an additional language or 15 credits in one language

My first language is Bisaya

I hereby claim that I have achieved proficiency in English

Reflective paragraph: The completion of 15 credits of an English language contributes to global competency because Bisaya was the dialect my parents spoke within our household. ~~Although I was born and raised in Canada, Bisaya was my first language and ultimately, I learned English through TV shows and school. Being fluent in different languages has broadened my perspective when it comes to communicating with different individuals because I understand the challenges that come along with language barriers and struggling to express what you need. I would say the benefits of knowing different languages is the ability to communicate with more people and build new connections. That's what is so special about different languages because~~ they build connections, relationships, and allow us to learn new things about one another.
